Sequoits Will Play Strong Wilmot Team Here Saturday Night

Football Season Opens With Non-Conference Tilt Under the Lights

Antioch High will turn its varsity team loose against the Wilmot High Panthers at 8 p. m. Saturday in a non-conference game which will open the season for the Sequoits.

Coach Robert Walther will have six lettermen in the lineup at the start, and a good reserve that may cause last minute changes at the opening whistle. Because of the strength of the reserve there may be frequent substitutions.

Possible starters are Joel Armstrong and Leroy Gallagher at ends; Frank Sebesta and Art Wollpert; guards; Dick Gudgeon, halfback; Russ Cole, quarterback, and Tom Malowski, center.

Antioch is presenting a strong team, but whether the boys play the kind of ball they are capable of remains to be seen.

Wilmot lost a number of her star players last year and will have a comparatively new team this year. The Panthers have always given a good account of themselves and take advantage of all the breaks.

The Sophomore-Freshman team will play the Wilmot underclassmen there Monday afternoon.

It is the freshmen who will in reality open the school's football season. They will play the Grayslake freshmen at 9 a. m. Saturday.

The varsity will play its first conference game here the following Saturday against Wauconda. The soph-fresh team will play at 6:30 p. m. and the varsity at 8:30 p. m.

Salem Central Plays Nicolet Friday Night In Conference Opener

Salem Central's football team will open its season Friday night under the lights at Salem's athletic field with Nicolet High school of Milwaukee as the opponent.

It will be the first Braveland Conference game of the season. The 1957 season will be the first season of night football for all Salem home games.

The squad is rounding into form but will be hampered all season by a lack of depth at key positions. Over 50 candidates are working out daily with the following lettermen on hand:

Dennis Flaschner, end; John Lichten, tackle; Dick Weber, halfback; Rich Skora, end; Ron Nelson, quarterback; Art Perry, fullback; Dave Poel, guard; Vern Leipzig, guard; Ray Lubkeman, tackle; Jim Cameron, halfback; and Wayne Remus, tackle.

The 1957 home schedule is particularly attractive with Racine Horlick of the Big Eight Conference, Watertown, and Menomonee Falls of the Braveland League also appearing at Central.

Collects $75,631 More

In his final year in office Antioch Township Collector John L. Horan collected $582,820.98 in real estate and personal property taxes. This was $75,631.59 more than was collected in 1956 when the total was $507,189.39.

Collector Horan said that he already has advanced $225,000 to school districts affected by the collection, thereby providing money to pay salaries at the start of the school year.

Board Permits Weiss To Build New Motel; Denies Ferris Request

Other Rezoning Permitted At Points on Grass Lake Road, Route 59

Rezoning of two acres of land on Rte. 173 from farming to business by the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday has been given the go-ahead signal for Mr. and Mrs. John F. Weiss to build a 22-unit motel, coffee shop and utility rooms at an estimated cost of $125,000.

The Weiss property a mile west of Rte. 59 is on the south side of Rte. 173.

Mr. Weiss said that he probably will be unable to start the project until next spring and may not be able to build the entire 22 units at one time.

Weiss last spring sold his Slide Inn tavern to Mrs. Lou McNiff and had been operating a drive-in restaurant at Sheridan road and Greenwood ave., in Waukegan.

While supervisors were approving the Weiss petition they turned down the request of Paul Ferris and son, Charles, for permission to rezone land now occupied in part by a summer trailer camp just off Beach Grove road on Lake Marie.

The change was opposed by the nearby Merrywood Point Subdivision and the Beach Grove Improvement Assn. with approximately 25 members each.

The board acted upon the recommendation of the Zoning Board of appeals that the rezoning not be permitted because of the inadequacy of the sewage disposal system and sanitation.

The Board gave its approval for Louis J. Nielsen to rezone from farming to B-1 business three acres of land at the northwest corner of Rte. 59 and Grass Lake road for remodeling a bait stand, radiator repair and garage, and an old farm house.

Fred E. and Stella M. Franklin were granted their request that their residential property on the south side of Grass Lake road, a mile west of Rte. 59 be rezoned from residential to business. Mrs. Franklin has been operating a beauty shop and the change will permit her to advertise by erecting a sign.

Chamber of Commerce Plans Season Activity At Opening Meeting

The Chamber of Commerce held its first meeting of the new year Tuesday evening at the Ruralite and initiated plans to be completed later.

One of the first general activities will be a Harvest Festival sale to be held this fall on Friday, Oct. 11.

The report of a large number of solicitors on the streets of Antioch resulted in the chamber's decision to cooperate with the Village Board in curtailing the number.

A representative of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce will discuss this problem and its various solutions at the next meeting.

A committee to nominate a board of directors for the coming year was appointed with Charles Cermak serving as chairman.

Call Public Meeting To Discuss New Lock In River at McHenry

The Department of Public Works is advertising in this newspaper today the fact that it is calling a public meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 24 in the V.F.W. building at McHenry to discuss the proposed lock in the Fox River there to aid recreational navigation.

An act of the Illinois legislature on July 11 approved the construction of a lock for the passage of recreational navigation around the McHenry dam in the Fox river.

The purpose of the coming meeting is to obtain views and opinions of all interested persons or agencies relative to the type of structure desired which will most adequately serve recreational navigation desired which will meet most Antioch has been asked to participate in National Civil Defense Week Sept. 15-22 as a part of the Lake County Civil Defense agency, John L. Horan, civil defense director announced today.

On Sept. 22, a mock tornado will occur at 2 p. m. in Highland Park and Mundelein and civil defense directors of these communities have set up their problems of needed aid. They know how much of their towns have been "destroyed," and how many have been killed and injured, and what public utilities have been ruined.

At 2 p.m. they will alert the county civil defense office in Libertyville which will set into motion relief forces throughout the county.

The CD office will act exactly as it intends to operate if the disaster were a real one.

The purpose of the exercise, Director Horan said, is to learn just how well prepared various local civil defense agencies are to lend assistance to a neighboring community in event of a disaster.

V.F.W. Challenges American Legion to Softball Tilt Sept. 22

An invitation has been given to the Antioch Post of the American Legion by the Antioch Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to a softball game on Sunday, Sept. 22. Arrangements have been made to use the Little League Ball park. As yet the V.F.W. is still waiting to hear if their challenge has been accepted.

Of course the members of the Veterans organizations that will play on their respective teams aren't in the shape they were while serving in the armed forces, and a great many of them would have trouble getting into that old uniform. Too many bulges. . . So maybe we should call this game the battle of the bulge. Regardless of the shape the players are in, it should prove to be a lot of fun and also provide some laughs.

The public as well as all members are invited to watch this "battle of the bulge." And after the game all members of both organizations are invited to the V.F.W. Post home on Main st. to cool off. Incidentally if the challenge is accepted and the game played, here's a bit of advice to the little woman. Be sure you have a bottle of liniment in the house so friend hubby can rub out that stiffness and get to work the next day.

Sisters of Charity Would Sell and Buy Fox Lake Properties

Lilac Lodge at Indian Point is up for sale by the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

The order received the property fronting on Fox Lake from Patrick Joyce, railroad president, twelve years ago as provided in his will. It has a residence and a lodge which were used as a summer home by the Joyses.

The nuns have used it as a summer home after spending their winters teaching.

Joseph Cremin of Chicago is the broker. The order which has its headquarters at Lubuque, Ia., is seeking a zoning which will make possible for its use the estate which was formerly the Illinois Conservation Camp on Fox Lake off Rte. 59 at Lake Villa.

It would be used as an educational center.

Miss Clafford on Program

Antioch members of the Women's University Club have been informed that Patricia Clafford will present a dramatized book review at a "Homecoming Tea" at the club, 116 S. Michigan ave., Chicago, at 2 p. m. Saturday. This is a repeat performance for Miss Clafford who has appeared in Antioch.

Undecided as to Request For Lesser Amount Later

May Ask Civic League To Tell What Course It Would Take in Matter

A moderate curtailment of services was voted by the Antioch Township High School Board of education last night following the defeat Saturday of the proposal to increase the educational and building tax.

Transportation to out of town athletic contests hereafter will call for a 40 cent fee per student, the Board announced and there probably will be fees for the use of the building by outside organizations.

There will also be a raise of $5.00 for adult evening courses, from $10.00 to $15.00, and a rental charge of $3.00 for graduation gowns.

These were cited as examples. Whether the Board will again go before the voters on a more limited request has not yet been decided. If it doesn't, Principal Dittman said that after this year deficit spending will result.

The Board has scheduled a meeting for Sept. 25 to consider another referendum, and also many other matters including: pay for teachers attending professional meetings, school attorney, summer band, and to discuss the newly acquired land east of the Soo Line tracks.

District 117 in a heavy turnout defeated the proposals for school tax increases by a 2 to 1 margin.

A total of 1,056 votes were cast in the three precincts, Antioch, Lake Villa, and Lindenhurst, Harold Wilson, board secretary announced.

The proposal to increase the education fund tax from its present 65 cents to 86 cents on each $100 assessed valuation lost 653 to 364.

The proposal to increase the building fund tax from its present 10 cents to 18 1/2 cents on each $100 assessed valuation lost 653 to 364.

Lindenhurst Favored Increase
Lindenhurst was the only precinct favoring the proposal. The vote by precincts was:

Lindenhurst—Education tax 79 for, 39 against; building tax, 75 for, 42 against.

Lake Villa—Educational tax, 52 yes, 69 no; building fund 49 yes, 68 no.

Antioch—Educational tax 245 yes, 550 no; building fund 240 yes, 543 no.

Exactly what caused the defeat of the proposal is not known, but the censure by the Lake County Civic League gave an excuse to many of the voters to cast a no ballot. The election came at a time when many voters felt the pinch of tax payment, and were not willing to give a blank check to the Board.

Members of the Board, some of whom were given an overwhelming vote at the election this year, were quite crestfallen because the referendum reflected a lack of confidence in their promise to levy the tax only as needed. The board members are unpaid and give much time to the school business.

The big question in their minds is whether the voters want to go into deficit spending with its additional interest costs.

"We plan to keep our educational standards and services at the present level as long as we can," Principal Dittman said.

The Lake County Civic League having censured the proposals will be asked to substitute a constructive program of financing.

Menace to the Smaller Retailer

It is proposed that the federal wage-hour law be extended to retailing—though this industry, along with certain other service businesses, has been exempt during the law's entire existence. If this effort succeeds, what will be the result?

Russell R. Mueller, managing director of the National Retail Hardware Association, wanted an answer to that question. So he polled hardware dealers on their views, and got the remarkable total of 3,000 replies. Of all these, exactly two favored placing retailing under the federal wage-hour law. All the others were opposed—often vehemently so—and for the soundest of reasons.

An Iowa dealer wrote, "The Wage-Hour Bill would have a devastating effect on small operations. . . . Any further burdens such as the wage bill would force on us would about wind up a good many hundred Main Street merchants." A Massachusetts dealer wrote, ". . . Any time the government regulates, it is the little fellow who has the greatest difficulty adjusting." A Mississippi dealer wrote, "Small town stores can't stand any more expenses. . . . A Missouri dealer wrote, "We would be forced to discontinue all outside service and become a one-man store or discontinue completely. . . . An Ohio dealer wrote, "What is wrong with the law of supply and demand? What happened to all the party platforms concerning private business versus government control?"

So the answers went. Their substance is clear: Extension of the law would be a body blow to all retailing, and especially to the smaller retailers—and the effect on the consuming public would be of an extremely damaging nature.

Farmers in Business Suits

"Farmer in a Business Suit" is the striking title of a new book by John Davis and Kenneth Hinshaw, published by Simon and Schuster. It deals with what the authors call "agri-business," a term that succinctly indicates the vast change that has taken place in farming in comparatively speaking, a handful of years.

In their introduction the authors say this: "The farmer in a business suit has taken the place of the old homesteader. His horsepower is bred in factories and his stock is fed by the white-frosted scientists in the laboratories that produce those fabulous substances known as antibiotics and hormones. His family farm is a costly, efficient, revved-up complex of fields, barns, and equipment. . . . His productivity is a hundred, a thousand times his family's own needs."

This is what technology has done. A farmer of the old homestead days wouldn't believe his eyes if he was to see a typical modern farm of the present. Tractors and other mechanized equipment, the new seeds and fertilizers, scientific methods of soil improvement and conservation—these have almost completely revolutionized farming from grandfather to grandson.

Such a revolution inevitably brings problems as well as opportunities. There is less and less room for the inefficient marginal farmer, or the farmer who refuses to adapt himself to modern conditions. But there is plenty of room for the family farm that is run as a business by people who know their business. These are the farmers in business suits.

Ultimate Beneficiary

In a free economy—which means an economy governed by natural law, instead of bureaucratic and dictatorial regulations—problems have a habit of solving themselves. An editorial in the Portland Oregonian provides an interesting little illustration of this truism.

Some time ago there was a great furor over so-called "bootlegging" of new automobiles. Car production was outrunning sales, and used car lots and other non-franchised outfits were offering new models at prices well under those of the regular franchised dealers. Demands were made that Congress enter the act with legislation to correct the situation. Congress did not oblige. Yet today "bootlegging" of new cars has practically disappeared. And the reason that happened is simplicity itself. The franchised dealers met the competition by reducing their prices and bringing the customers back to their showrooms. Once the opportunity for a quick and easy profit vanished, the "bootleggers" went out of business.

The Oregonian points up the moral: "Thus the law of supply and demand, through its inexorable workings, created the 'bootlegger' and later abolished him. The consuming public was the ultimate beneficiary, as it generally is when human lawmakers are wise enough to resist the temptation to try to amend this natural law."

A Personal Question

Last year the nation's loss was in the neighborhood of $1 billion—a sum equal to the total personal income of all the people in New Hampshire. This proves the nation's continuing need for the most effective possible fire prevention work.

It also proves something else. No one's home and property is immune from fire. No one knows where fire will strike next. But we do know that every day of the year an average of 800 homes will suffer a fire—and anyone's home may be among them. So here's a tremendously important personal question: Are your home and its contents adequately insured?

If they are, you are to be congratulated—for you are one of a wise and foresighted minority. But don't say "Yes" to that question without doing some serious thinking and investigating. Since the end of World War II, the cost of everything—including construction—has shown big increases. As a general rule of thumb, you can figure that values have about doubled, which is simply another way of saying that the dollar has lost half its purchasing power. So the moral is plain: Insurance policies which met your needs some years ago are going to look mighty small if your property burns today.

The solution to this problem has two main steps. First, make a thorough-going inventory of your home and its contents, and really find out what it would cost to replace them. The chances are you'll be surprised. Then see your local fire insurance agent. He knows how to give you the coverage you should have at minimum cost.

(But after all I'm fond of France);
I guess I'll have to break my lease
(I must co-operate, with Greece);
Hedged in by debts quite vast I am
(But I must not neglect Siam).

The wolf from door I can't repel (Still I must help keep Burma well);
By Tuesday I am out of dough
(Malaya's feeling better, though);
My dollar very little buys
(But Egypt's safer, I surmise);
My own financial outlook's murky
(But still my heart belongs to Turkey).

I'm busted, flat, and feeling blue
(But I'm a pal of Timbaktu); We're adding breadcrumbs to our hash

(Who cares? Ain't Tito short of cash?);
The sheriff's knocking on my door
(However, England's asking more);
I'm in a hole, but feeling noble . . .
I wish things were not quite so global!

For every billion dollars cut from the federal budget, the Tax Foundation figures, the average family of four could keep $19 which otherwise would go to Washington in taxes.

Illinois Tax Facts

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois today called attention to the relationship between Federal taxes and grants to foreign aid. "At a time when Illinois has assumed an estimated tax receipt burden of $5.8 billion for fiscal 1958 a comparison was thought valuable," Maurice W. Scott, Federation Executive Secretary, commented.

For example, in 1956, Italy,

Greece and Yugoslavia received $145 million in aid, while individual income tax collections in Arizona amounted to $146 million. In this same period, South Carolina collected $185 million in individual income taxes, while Pakistan, India, Burma and Indonesia were granted $188 million in foreign aid.

In the last twelve years various foreign aid programs have totaled about $62 billion (net estimate basis), including $58 billion in post-war grants and credit transfers.

"Since every Illinois resident will have an estimated per capita Federal tax load of $619 in 1958, we feel responsible for pointing out expenditures of this kind."

"The following poem seems appropriate," he added:

University of Illinois Retail Food Report

CHICAGO — Cooling breezes brought a change in consumer demand, to place high quality sirloin and porterhouse steaks in the food value column this week following a several-week absence.

The University of Illinois consumer service equal-rates steaks with continuing, low-priced frying chickens and turkey meats for top billing. Inevitable price concessions for beef or pork roasts are seller-selected not measurable marketwise.

Heavy arrival of high quality cattle selling for less during a short holiday work week, and cooler weather spurred consumer tastes for heavier roasts. This coupled with diminished wholesale loin demand resulted in a backup of steaks in distribution—and the better price-quality position.

Fryers and turkey remain steady in the off-reported value spot, as broilers drop slightly and stewing hens go up slightly in price. Lamb and veal remain steady on more limited supply.

Top dairy news focuses on plentiful and cheap eggs, as larger sizes move considerably higher. Milk is more realistically priced in most stores a penny per quart higher. Many kinds of cheese are cheaper on hang-over supplies, including Swiss and cheddar types.

Fresh Produce is confronted with a mixed market situation—the end of summer and advent of fall supplies. Top-heading the values are McIntosh apples, lingering cantaloupe and honeydews, and peaches in the fruit division, and acorn squash, cauliflower, snap beans and beets in vegetables. Lettuce is in questionable quality except for California grown. A flavor of the international situation is injected as avocado supplies are affected by the Cuban revolt.

Competitive situations involving vegetable fats result in lower prices, making shortening a good grocery value as Chicago continues to be an exclusive low-market. Other values include canned pears, peas, peaches and applesauce. Canned meats may soon move higher at retail pending cost increases based on higher production factors. So far, shelf prices remain unchanged.

Price tags showing around the metropolitan area for the week ending Sept. 14 include:

Beef—Sirloins and porterhouse drop competitively below the dollar mark, to a lower range in more stores, the consensus respectively being 79-89c and 98c. Round steak, with less promotional interest, quotes nearer its market level price of 69-79c for full cuts. Roasts are more popular, blade cut chuck quotes 43-45c, and promotionally 35-39c. Round bone and meaty Boston cut pot roasts range 59-69c, closer to market conditions. Standing rib roasts quote a consensus 69c, and a few sirloin top or rump roasts will be found under 89c.

Pork—Against continuing lower hog quotes, loin roasts are a consensus 65c for full cuts, rib and roasts 45-49c. Fresh Boston roasts, square cut, quote 49c, and pork shoulder steaks generally quote 59c. Spare ribs are high, mostly 63-65c. In cured lines, smoked butts are popularly priced 69c in some stores, but more commonly range 75-79c. Picnic hams start at 39c. One top brand bacon quotes 79c, but most quality labels show 85c. Even second quality lines hold high, a low quote being 69c but mostly 75-79c prevailing.

Lamb—Leg roasts are tagged 69c, shoulder roasts mostly 45-49c and lamb shanks 39c.

Poultry—A continuing bargain buy area, fryers are the leading value at 35-39c. Stewing hens quote higher, mostly ranging 35-39c. Turkey prices over 45c are hard to find in competitive stores. Grade A white small eggs (18 oz. per doz.) price at 33c, while the larger sizes (24 oz. per doz.) quote 57c. Computed on a standard-serving basis, small eggs cost 7c per serving and large eggs 8c per serving.

Produce—Weather influences the quality of low priced lettuce and shipped-in tomatoes. Carrot prices are higher. Sweetcorn markets are dull on heavy quality supplies. California celery is main source at higher prices. Bananas are short supplied because of storm damage, some promotion priced. Volume crop apples are reported. Perhaps a new record for McIntosh variety. Quality of Delicious, Jonathans and McIntosh reported excellent. Poorer quality real cheap. Peaches are in sufficient supply and priced for home freezing and canning inducement. Cantaloupe supplies are well ahead of last year, and Persians are quoting much lower.

Respiratory Ills Common Ailment For Ice Cap Team

CHICAGO — A physician who spent 100 days isolated on the Greenland Ice Cap with five other scientists says respiratory ailments were the most common medical problems and aspirin the most frequently used medication.

The most interesting case occurred after 40 days of isolation, Dr. Robert W. Christie said. The expedition leader developed an influenza-like illness three days after the group received an air drop of supplies. The disease apparently was transmitted by the man's personal mail, since all the other materials dropped were handled by the other men, none of whom became ill. There was no evidence of other means of contracting the disease.

In 1955 the scientists traveled almost 1,200 miles (400 miles through unexplored regions) and collected data in the fields of glaciology, geophysics, bacteriology, physiology and mechanical engineering. The temperatures ranged between 31 F and -31 F and the altitude ranged to 12,000 feet.

During the 100 days there were 61 medical visits. None of the diseases were serious and most were treated with relatively common drugs. The ailments included sinusitis, sore throat, common cold, bloody nose, stomach upsets, muscle strain, ingrown toenail, burns, cold sores, headache, motion sickness, frostbite, snow blindness and back strain.

The drugs used included aspirin for headaches and muscle and joint pains; phenylephrine hydrochloride for sinusitis, paregoric for diarrhea, salt water gargle for sore throat; cod liver oil ointment for burns and frostbite, and various antibiotics and sedatives.

New Hunt Is On For Grizzly Bear

BERKELEY, Cal. — A grizzly bear hunt is under way in California for the first time in many years.

Of course the California grizzly has been extinct over 30 years—and these hunters aren't carrying guns—but Drs. Loye Miller and Seth Benson are hunting for specimens of the giant bear, whether they are bear-skin rugs or trophies over the mantlepiece.

Although possessors of old grizzly relics may not realize it, stated the scientists, a well preserved California grizzly specimen is an important zoological find. In spite of the large number of these animals which roamed California in recent times, very few of the giant bears are available for study today.

The zoologists, who recently received a finely preserved grizzly skull some 50 to 100 years old, said parts of less than 70 California grizzlies are known in museums throughout the world now.

Grizzly bears, which once existed over a considerable portion of western North America, are now confined to Montana, Wyoming, and Idaho and parts of Canada, Alaska, and Mexico. The last California grizzly to be seen alive was observed in Sequoia National Park in 1924.

Few Hundred Survivors Of Famous Longhorns

WASHINGTON—The ornery longhorn that built the American cattle kingdom has finally become a national pet.

Sixty years ago, cowboys still roped and branded these bad-tempered, money-making bovines. Now visitors come to gaze at a few hundred survivors of the breed grazing in private paddocks, game refuges and zoos.

Among the longhorn's distant ancestors were Spanish cattle introduced into Texas in 1690.

Early Lone Star ranchers collected hodgepodge herds liberally laced with this hot Spanish blood. Gradually the longhorn developed. Big-boned and narrow-hipped, cows weighed 1,600 pounds and came in a variety of drab colors, none particularly beautiful. Horns sometimes stretched eight feet from tip to tip, with dagger-sharp points.

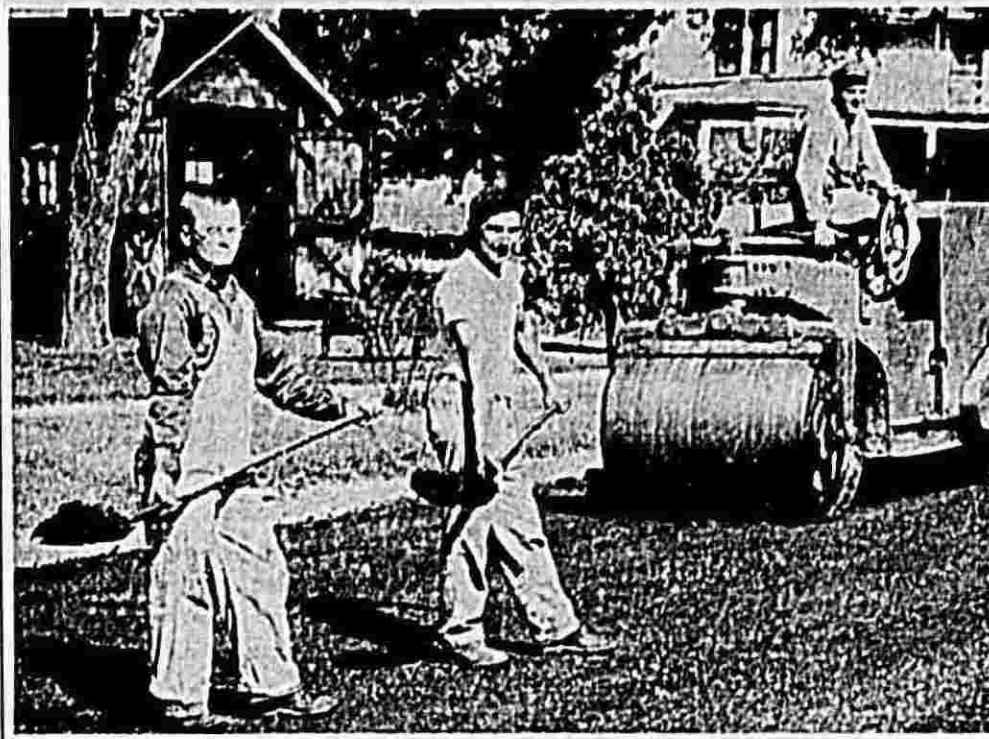

Judge Rules That Poker Is Not 'Game of Chance'

BUENOS AIRES—Poker is not a game of chance, an Argentine judge has ruled.

Dr. Jose Maria Ragucci so ruled in ordering freedom for several members of an athletic club who had been arrested on gambling charges.

Said Judge Ragucci: "The fact that the skill of a player and a technique in eliminating a good deal of the improbable are important factors, and the calculating abilities of the players is a preponderant element of the game, eliminates it from those known as games of chance."

The Hand-Laundry Handicap

Automatic washing machines are pretty much standard equipment for any house or apartment these days—but the fact remains that hand laundry—with your hands the equipment, is still a big part of your life. But just how bright are you when it comes to doing your bowl-washing properly? Test your technique below with the questions prepared by the Lux Washability Bureau:

1. Do you use lukewarm-to-cool water when washing woollens, to keep them from matting or shrinking? Yes ☐ No ☐
2. Are you careful to read the tags attached to new garments to be certain you follow proper washing instructions? Yes ☐ No ☐
3. Do you keep an easy-to-store can of light-duty liquid detergent such as mild Lux right at hand on a bathroom shelf? Yes ☐ No ☐
4. Before washing, are you careful to remove any ribbons or buttons that might fade or run? Yes ☐ No ☐
5. When washing woollens such as sweaters, rather than wring, do you squeeze out excess moisture? Yes ☐ No ☐
6. Do you make a point of hand-washing personal garments such as lingerie, hose and gloves every night instead of waiting to do them once a week? Yes ☐ No ☐

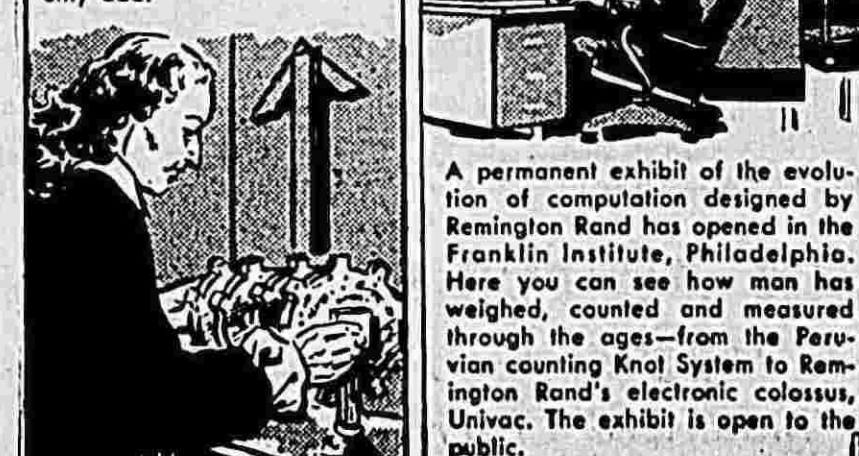

If your score is 5 yeses or more, you are 'way ahead in the hand-laundry field—and are a bright lady who knows that her own hands are the best answer for keeping delicate fabrics in fine shape.

Counting Our Blessings

Our cave-dwelling ancestors, whose possessions were meager, thought of any quantity greater than three as a "heap" or "pile."

The first calculating machine was made by Blaise Pascal, famous French mathematician, in 1642. Using a series of wheels, each having ten teeth for the numerals zero to nine, Pascal's machine could not subtract, multiply or divide—only add.

A permanent exhibit of the evolution of computation designed by Remington Rand has opened in the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia. Here you can see how man has weighed, counted and measured through the ages—from the Peruvian counting knot system to Remington Rand's electronic colossus, Univac. The exhibit is open to the public.

Tax Facts

Everybody loves a bargain in a department store—and that includes you. You love a bargain so much that you will buy a newspaper just for the ads. You will get downtown at the crack of dawn to brave the crowds at a super sale. You will buy what you never wanted to buy just because the urge is irresistible.

But will you read the reports and watch the newspapers to determine whether your State's tax bite is a "bargain" when compared to other states? Regardless of your answer to the question, here are a few statistics about State tax collections in the 1957 fiscal year-12 month period ending June 30, 1957.

General sales and gross receipts taxes totaled $3,291 million in 1957, substantially more than any other tax source. This category accounted for about one-fourth of total State tax yields, even though this kind of tax was not applied by 15 states.

California collected $1,637 million in State taxes and New York $1,440 million in fiscal 1957, far more than the next ranking states of Pennsylvania ($905 million), Michigan ($771 million), and Illinois ($691 million).

Per capita amounts of State taxes ranged from approximately $145 in Nevada down to about $52 in Nebraska. The 48 state average equalled $87. Illinois, with a per capita average of $73, could be considered a "bargain" because this figure was $14 a person below the average for all the states of the Union.

Property taxes levied by the states totaled $480 million in fiscal 1957, a gain of 2.6 per cent over 1956. This tax can currently be tossed on the bargain counter in Illinois, because it has not been levied since 1935. The property tax, levied on both real and personal property, has been almost entirely relinquished to local governments (such as schools, cities, counties, etc.) in Illinois and in many other states. So when you do your next "bargain" shopping, remember that part of the price you pay will probably help increase the State's revenues. In Illinois, part of that purchase price helped total $206 million in sales-use tax revenue in fiscal 1957.

You'll never see an atom, unless microscopes far more powerful than any now in existence are invented. According to U. S. News, there are about 6,000,000,000,000,000,000 (six sextillion) atoms in a single drop of water.

CHEVROLET PICKUP CLIMBS
PIKES PEAK THE HARD WAY
...OFF THE ROAD!

An off-the-road run up Pikes Peak was called impossible by people who know the mountain well.
But a production Chevrolet pickup actually did it
... to prove its pulling power and ruggedness!

All the way to the top without using the road! Here the truck scales high boulder pile near the 14,110-foot summit.

Steep grade near timberline—a rugged test of power. The power and torque of Chevrolet's famous Thriftmaster 6 proved more than a match for the most difficult grades.

Miles of loose boulders and thinning air offer extreme challenge. Yet the big Chevy engine never faltered; it performed flawlessly mile after mile, all the way up the mountain!

Final effort achieves summit! Pickup conquers Pikes Peak... shows why Chevrolet trucks are famous for staying and saving on tough jobs! Talk

September 8 was a gala day for the Lindenhurst Garden Club. The club, of less than a year's duration, held its first flower show which was a huge success.

There were entries in every classification. The judges, Mrs. John Selzer, Mr. Theodore Brendel, and Mr. Robert Randall had quite a time in picking the prize winners. The winners for each classification are as follows:

Foliage Plants: First Mrs. George Skelton, second, Mrs. Mary Thomas, and third, Mrs. Mary DeSilvestro. Annuals: Mrs. Bert Langager, first; Mrs. Lyle Mercer, second, and Lindenhurst Men's Club, third.

Perennials: Mrs. Betty Hansen, first; Mrs. George Skelton, second, and Mrs. Gustav Fabry, third.

Roses: Mr. Alfred Sokolies, first; Mrs. Gustav Fabry, second, and Mrs. Hilmar Habsen, third.

Flowering Plants: Mrs. Vera Baier, first; Mrs. Robert Randall, second; Mrs. Robert Ketcham, third.

Flower Arrangements: Mrs. Mary Thomas, first; Mrs. Gustav Fabry, second; Miss Carolyn Westberg, third.

Miniature Flower Arrangements: Mrs. George Skelton, first; Mrs. Thor Newman, second; Mr. Alfred Sokolies, third.

Vegetables: Mr. Alfred Sokolies, first; Mr. Stanley Koziol, second; Mrs. Stanley Koziol, third.

In the children's entries the first prize went to Philip Fabry whose entry was a miniature house and garden scene of Beautiful Lindenhurst. Second prize went to Judy Langager, and third to her brother, Donald.

Mrs. George Skelton, president of the Garden Club, hopes that the flower show will inspire more people to join the club. During the winter the club will meet only once a month. The next meeting will be September 23. The meetings will be held on the fourth Monday thereafter. Everyone is invited to join. You need not live in Lindenhurst to join. Many thanks to all who helped in making our first show the huge success it was.

During the show, under a garden setting of huge umbrella tables, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Baier.

Mrs. Gustav Fabry, chairman of the Lindenhurst Garden Club Flower show, wishes to thank all of the ladies on her committee. Without their co-operation and hard work, the flower show could not have been the success it was. The ladies on the committee were: Mesdames Fran Jungles, Mary De Silvestro, Ruby Swoboda, Fran Ketcham, Lorraine Lewis, Mary Loblillo, Elaine Randall, Evelyn Krakowski, Mary Thomas, Vera Baier, Bernice Frontzak, and Miss Carolyn Westberg.

We wish to correct an item in the article about the Men's Club picnic of last week. It was stated that the Co-op Dairy furnished the milk. It is corrected to read the Meadmoor Dairy and the Co-op Dairy furnished the milk. We are sorry for the omission.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Roher were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gibbs of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Graves celebrated their seventh wedding anniversary on Sept. 5, and spent the week-end in the home of her parents in Maywood, during which there was a family celebration with many other relatives attending.

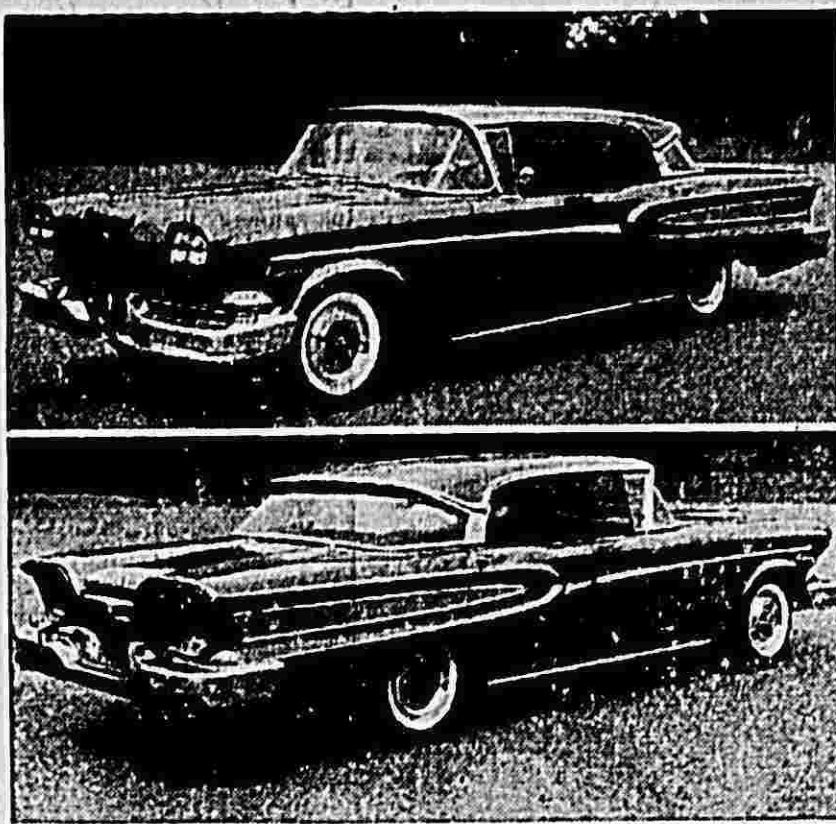

The Lindenhurst Men's club started their bowling season last Wednesday with six teams competing. Their sponsors are Klima's Resort, Fred Maier's Service, Engle Realtors, Slove's Bakery, Wolff's Resort, and Frolick's Club Villa.

What makes a Jewel steak such a good buy? We call it E. V. T.—Extra Value Trim. For example, you never find any more than 1/2 inch of fat on any part of a Jewel Porterhouse Steak. Anything more than this has been trimmed off BEFORE WEIGHING to give you more lean "eating" meat for your money.

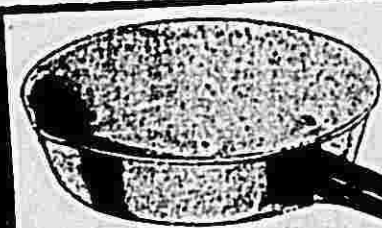

If you're extra fussy about the steak you buy, come to Jewel and see for yourself the difference between ordinary steak and a delicious Jewel E. V. T. Steak.

Salem Central Enrolls 472 On Opening Day; 130 In Driver Training

A total of 472 students are enrolled at Salem Central High school this year.

When school started Sept. 3 there were 141 freshmen, 142 sophomores, 99 juniors, and 90 seniors.

The school is showing a gradual growth.

Principal A. H. Erickson of Salem Central High School announced that 130 students are enrolled in a driver education course. Instruction will be given by D. W. Grams.

"The purposes and objectives of Driver Education are the same in the classroom as in a motor vehicle," Grams declared. "They may be more readily achieved through a sequence of learning experiences involving both classroom and practice driving instruction."

The learning experiences offered by driver education are a highly significant part of general education for preparing youth and non-driving adults to live safely, efficiently, and responsibly. They are large factors in the reduction of highway traffic accidents. Those who have had the privilege of successfully completing a course in Driver Education may expect to have more than 50 per cent fewer accidents than do those who have not been exposed to this subject.

Driver Education is being sponsored for the sixteenth year by the safety division of the state motor vehicle department with the approval and co-operation of the department of public instruction. It is a subject which is in keeping with many others taught in the high school to help prepare young people to become better citizens.

YOU and your DOG

SKIN DISORDERS

Some of the most common and puzzling ailments in dogs are only skin deep.

Of all the subjects about which dog owners write to the Sergeant's Dog Care Center of Richmond, Va., skin ailments are by far the most numerous. This is true all year round, although skin troubles are usually worse in warm weather.

A condition known as "summer eczema" causes a dog to scratch even when there are no fleas or other insects. Rough or bare patches appear on the skin. By scratching and biting these areas the dog helps to spread the irritation.

There are many possible causes: uncleanliness, poor diet, constipation, dampness, hot weather and overheated living conditions.

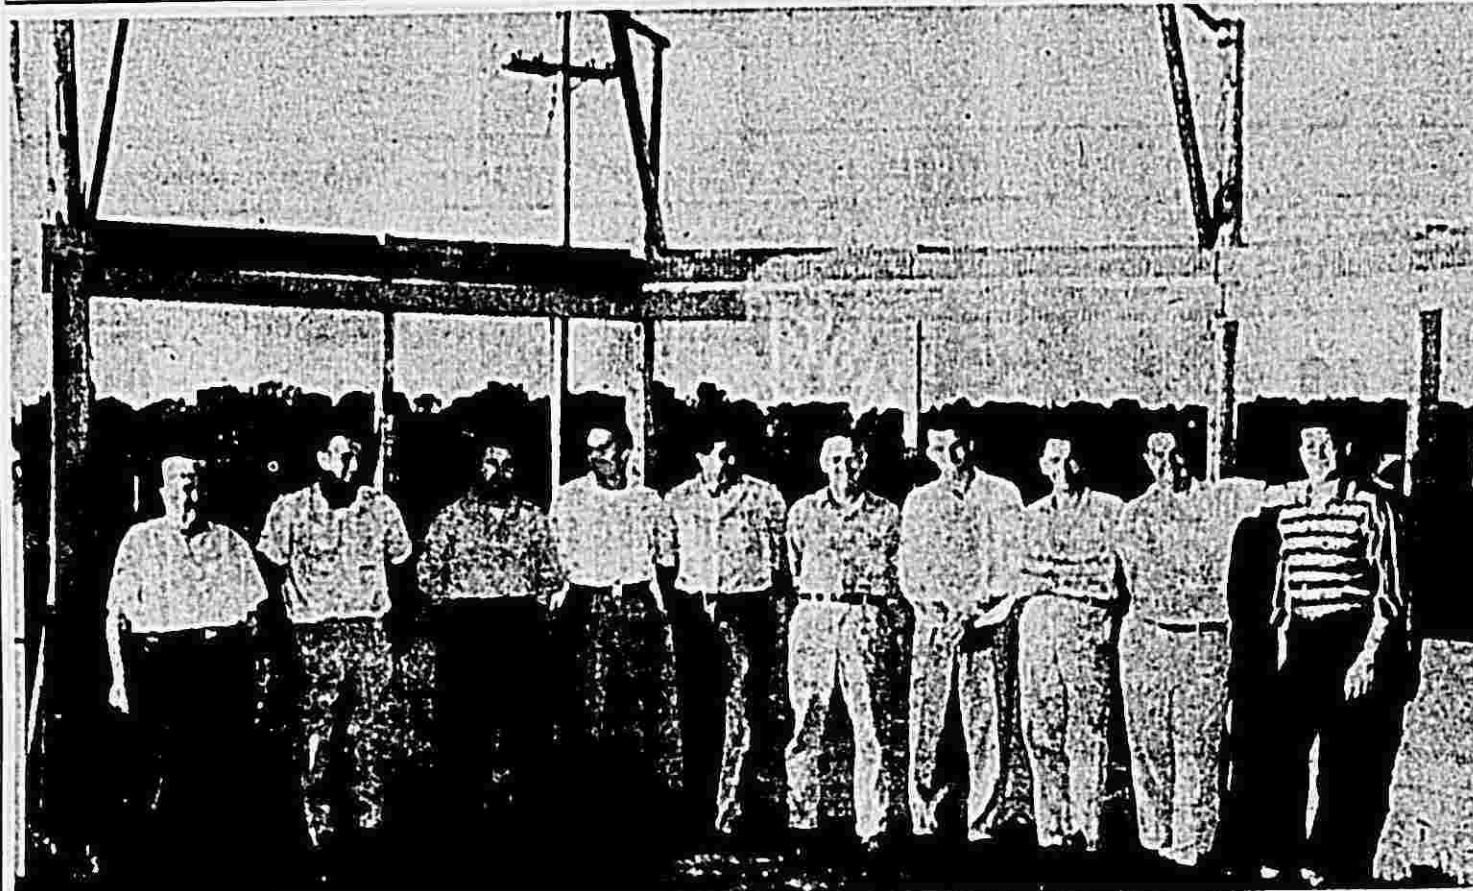

It's important to check the trouble at the first sign. There is a skin balm available at drug or pet stores made specifically for relief of "summer eczema." It is easy to apply and effective in providing quick relief.

Husband Receives Merchandise for Fish Wife Caught

Andrew Manes of 25 W. 110th pl., Chicago, is shown receiving from representatives of the Fox Brewing Co. a 25 horsepower motor, 14-foot aluminum boat, and a trigger action boat trailer as a prize to his wife, Marlon, who caught a blue tagged 4-pound northern pike in the Foxy Fishathon on August 11. Mrs. Manes is an expectant mother and couldn't receive the prize in person. She caught the fish at Channel Lake and it was her first fish caught this year.

Your general state of health can be a first-line defense against illness, particularly now that the season of infectious diseases is upon us, according to the Medical Department of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. Our resistance to complications following "colds," "flu" and other illnesses are influenced by how we eat, sleep, exercise and relax—before we become ill, points out Dr. Norvin C. to lowered resistance to illness.

One fact about food that perhaps cannot be over-emphasized is the value of a good solid breakfast. And a coffee break isn't breakfast! Many people find that the demands of their job in the home or in the office take so much out of them, they feel all used up by the end of the day. This is apt to be literally true, especially so if they have not had a good breakfast.

Many times an "all-gone" feeling in the late morning comes about something like this: When you get up in the morning, you've been without food for a good many hours. You're empty of food, which your body requires as fuel to keep you going. And yet you are not likely to know it—at least not in the sense of feeling hungry. You seem to get along for a few hours on a sub-standard breakfast, but sometime around 11 o'clock, you can't wait for lunch time. Errors and mistakes in working are most apt to happen at this time.

To forestall fatigue, to reduce errors, to assure yourself of a steady level, fortify yourself with the sure combination: A good night's sleep, a really basic breakfast, such as fruit, toast, eggs or breakfast meat, cereal and milk.

Remember, too, as you review your breakfast and other eating habits, to take a look at your ways of eating, as well. The relaxed, pleasant meal ... tempting, colorful dishes, good chewing to help digestion ... good talk to increase your family's meal-time enjoyment—all are tools for better health.

HEED "ROAD CLOSED" SIGNS

Detour signs and barricades aren't to fool you, they were put up because the road is "closed." Sure it's going to take you longer to get to your destination by way of the detour. That's a lot better than using a rough and unsafe road, possibly bringing harm to you, your car, and its occupants. Follow the detour when the road is "closed."

Painters at Work Year Round Keeping Big Bridges Shiny

WASHINGTON — Drivers crossing the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco and the George Washington Bridge in New York are accustomed to seeing painters wielding their brushes daily at some point on these two magnificent models of architectural magic. Rain or shine, fog or high wind, painting crews work on the bridges eight hours a day, five days a week, fifty-two weeks a year. When the weather is not good for work outside, they turn their skill to the hundreds of small cells in the towers, or to the inside struts, beams and hold-downs—all of which must have regular coatings of weather-resistant paint to keep the steel in perfect condition.

The George Washington Bridge—six years older than the somewhat longer San Francisco span—marked its twenty-fifth anniversary last fall. There was little birthday celebrating, however, since the bridge, in typical work-a-day mood, carried some 100,000 automobiles—not counting buses and trucks—across the mighty Hudson which it so gracefully spans.

Bridge authorities, in their determination to use the very best paints available, conduct constant research to determine what type coating is most suitable for each purpose. In the case of the Golden Gate Bridge, over 1,500 samples of paint have been tested since the span first went into construction in 1933. These tests determine which coatings will best stand up to heavy fog, rain and hot sun over the years. The tests are carried on systematically on a weight block on the San Francisco side of the bridge, where rain, wind, fog, salt water and heat of the sun show up the damage they can do to paint.

Eight Died From Rabies During 1956

CHICAGO — Eight Americans died from rabies in 1956, according to a consultant for the Journal of the American Medical Association.

In addition, one other death was attributed to rabies, but was not confirmed by autopsy.

Four of the confirmed deaths were reported to the National Office of Vital Statistics as occurring in Dallas, Texas, in January, June, July and October. The victims were a man aged 63, two boys aged 3 and 12, and a girl aged 12.

The other deaths occurred in Austin, Texas, in a man 39; Mobile County, Ala., in a woman 26; Lake County, Indiana, in a woman 70, and Santa Fe, N. M., in a girl 7.

Rabies, a virus disease, is acquired through the bite of a rabid animal, usually a dog or a cat. Cows, foxes, skunks, bats and other animals also are known to carry the disease. Vaccination of household pets is the best means of stopping the spread of the disease.

Tomato Tests Explore Blood Pressure Problems

LOS ANGELES—"Hot" tomatoes are being used to explore problems related to high blood pressure.

Dr. Irving Zabin, physiological chemist at UCLA medical school is using radioactive tomatoes (the garden variety) to study certain chemical structures similar to those found in cholesterol, the fatty substance in the body thought to be related to high blood pressure.

The center of interest is the substance that makes tomatoes red, a carotenoid pigment. This substance contains a multiple of five carbon structure, which is also found in cholesterol.

Dr. Zabin is tracing the formation of tomato red pigment. Compounds containing radioactive carbon are injected into tiny holes drilled into the green tomatoes, and the holes are sealed with paraffin. When the tomato ripens, the red pigment is extracted and analyzed to see how the radioactive carbon atoms are incorporated in the chemical structure.

Band Plays on Nightly— To an Empty House

WASHINGTON—A dance orchestra played at the Casino Royal for a whole week, but no one danced.

A business agent for a federation of musicians explained it this way:

The club management wanted to close the night spot for repairs a week before the orchestra's contract was to expire. The union insisted the club make good its end of the contract. So the orchestra was ordered by the club manager to report nightly throughout the week, dressed in white dinner jackets, and play to the empty house.

Club Manager Leon Zeiger was not available for comment.

Kenny Foundation Head Explains Rehabilitation, Research Goals

Minneapolis, Minn.—Gradual expansion of a program that originally was concerned primarily with poliomyelitis to one that includes treatment and rehabilitation of victims of other neuromuscular disorders characterizes the work of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation today.

KLINE

This expansion has resulted, too, in growth in medical and research programs, according to Marvin L. Kline, national executive director of the foundation. Doctors in various specialties have been added to medical staffs of Kenny treatment centers, and its medical committees have been enlarged to include scientists, professors and department heads of a number of leading universities throughout the United States and Canada, he added.

"The Kenny foundation's primary objectives include direct treatment and care for persons suffering from poliomyelitis and other neuromuscular diseases and disorders, without regard to race, age, sex, color or creed," Kline declared.

"Training of registered nurses and physical therapists to become Kenny Therapists continues at our international training center in Minneapolis, and we have greatly increased the tempo of research into polio and other neuromuscular disabilities through grants to leading medical schools and hospitals and through provision of fellowships to individual doctors and scientists. Fostering of medical seminars and short courses continues as a major activity of the Kenny foundation."

Kline explained that the over-all program of providing direct patient treatment and rehabilitation is made possible through funds contributed during the foundation's annual nationwide public appeal.

"The Kenny foundation is highly dependent upon generous contributions from the public which benefits from this work, because of its wide demand in terms of highly-trained personnel and its many medical activities and research projects as well as the treatment and medical care it provides at no charge," Kline declared.

Lakeside Council Needs Girl Scout Leaders as Result of Large Growth

The Lakeside Council has grown and so has its need for leadership. When first started in 1947 there were 8 troops with 100 registered girls.

Growing steadily each year there now are 63 troops with 253 registered adults as leaders, co-leaders and committee members. Now 624 Brownies, 467 Intermediates, and 37 Senior or Junior High make up the 1,128 registered girls in the three program levels.

With the many more girls interested in joining Scouting and the starting of new troops, more adult leadership is needed. To all the girls in this area, the communities of Antioch, Fox Lake, Gages Lake, Grayslake, Ingleside, Lake Villa and Round Lake.

The Girl Scout moral code, with its emphasis on honesty, integrity, alertness and understanding toward others, helps girls learn to accept responsibility. They learn to express their own views and allow others to express theirs. They develop a healthy interest in the world about them.

Those interested in becoming a Scout worker may call or write the Lakeside Council President Mrs. Eugene Erickson, 122 N. Fairlawn Dr., Round Lake, Ill., phone Kimball 6-1255.

The board members of Lakeside Council will meet on the third Tuesday of each month 9:30 a. m. at the village hall in Lake Villa.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Faulkner of rural Kenosha visited Mr. and Mrs. Will Welch recently.

The Rosecrans Birthday club met at the home of Mrs. Ray Laursen on Tuesday, Sept. 10, for a pot luck dinner at noon. Mrs. William Strahan was the birthday lady this month.

Oscar Finkel left on Sunday on a ten day business trip to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Grace Turnock of Kenosha visited Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Tillotson one day last week.

Hickory school has 34 students this year.

Lt. and Mrs. Russell Hunter and family of Great Lakes visited the Eddie Van Patten home on Sunday afternoon.

Hardening of Arteries Depends on Kind of Fat Eaten Says Abbott Man

New indications that atherosclerosis—a type of hardening of the arteries—may result from eating too much of one kind of fat and not enough of another kind was reported today by an Abbott Laboratories scientist.

He told the Division of Biological Chemistry at the American Chemical Society's national meeting in New York city that he and other Abbott scientists produced atherosclerosis in rabbits within 100 days by feeding the animals a special diet in which the only fat was hydrogenated coconut oil.

However, he said, there was no evidence of atherosclerosis in rabbits whose dietary fat consisted entirely of safflower oil.

Hydrogenated coconut oil is almost entirely saturated and contains almost no essential fatty acid. It has a fatty acid composition unlike most other vegetable oils. Safflower oil, though, contains little saturated fat, but about 70 per cent essential unsaturated fatty acid.

A number of studies during the past half century have pointed to the relationship of dietary fat to blood cholesterol levels and atherosclerosis in certain animals and humans. Only recently, however, have such studies directed attention to the different effects on blood cholesterol levels of various kinds of dietary fats.

"Experiments are needed to determine whether the human is just as susceptible as the rabbit to the good or ill effects of various types of dietary fat," said Dr. Douglas V. Frost, head of Abbott's Nutrition Research Department.

Tigers L.L. Champs; Beat Yankees 5 to 0 At Picnic on Sunday

The Tigers won a hard fought game from the Yankees last Sunday when Bill Couch pitched a 5 to 0 shut out at the Little League picnic.

Couch gave up four well spaced hits in the six inning contest with Ferdon behind the plate. Bill not only pitched a beautiful game but drove in three runs with two hard hit balls to left field in the third and fifth innings.

Gary Schlunz pitched for the Yankees with Joe Ennis catching. Schlunz pitched a three hit game, but the Tigers bunched their hits to score three runs in the third and two runs in the fifth innings. Although the Yankees had four hits, they left men on the bases every inning but could not score against the pitching and fielding by the Tigers. Scores for both teams are as follows:

Takes A Heap o' Wood To Build A Steel Ship

NEWPORT NEWS, VIRGINIA. Ships made of steel are the thing these days—but a lot of wood still goes into building one. At Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, the Grace Line's new "Santa Paula" is being built at cost of $23,000,000. Almost a million and a half board-feet of lumber went into the elaborate structure within which the vessel will take shape. Oak and pine were used for the bottom supports and launching material. Pine, fir and oak went into the stowage. The "Santa Paula" will enter service between the United States, the Caribbean and South America early next year, joining the other "Santas" of the Grace Line fleet.

Comic Character Favorites Boost Kenny Fund Drive

Minneapolis, Minn. — Comic strip favorites of young and old alike are bidding the nation's daily and weekly newspapers for generous contributions to the 1957 annual fund appeal of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation, according to Al Capp, national volunteer chairman.

Included are Donald Duck, by Walt Disney; Bugs Bunny, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.; Peanuts, by Charles M. Schulz; Ella Cinders, by Fred Fox; Dixie Dugan, by John Striebel, and Li'l Abner, by Al Capp.

Capp also will be seen in an appeal on TV stations across the nation. "Citing the need for generous public contributions, each of the comic strip characters stresses that the Kenny foundation now is providing care and rehabilitation to persons of all ages, races and creeds," Capp said. "Disabled persons, who may benefit from the Kenny program include those with conditions, such as: polio, nerve injuries, strokes (hemiplegia), spinal cord injuries (paraplegia), congenital disabilities, cerebral palsy (spastic paralysis), spina bifida, birth injuries, Parkinsonism, dystonia, amputations, arthritis, post-fracture disabilities, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, contractures and Guillain-Barré disease."

LILLIAN ROTH, talented singer and actress, is among the celebrities from the entertainment world who will be seen in appeals on television stations across the country in behalf of the 1957 annual public fund appeal of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation. Miss Roth said: "We in the United States are fortunate that the late Sister Kenny showed us how to combat the crippling after-effects of polio and that the organization which bears her name has expanded her work to include rehabilitation for victims of a number of other neuromuscular disabilities."
